About Us

HealingStrong is focused on equipping and empowering community groups with crucial information to support participants and their families in taking proactive steps towards their health. Our primary goal is to instill a sense of hope in individuals facing cancer or chronic conditions, regardless of the prognosis. The very essence of our name and logo reflects the action-oriented approach we teach and firmly believe in.

HealingStrong Groups are always FREE and no goods or services are ever sold at our group meetings. We have helped over 600 HealingStrong Groups in communities all over the United States, Canada, Australia, England, Ireland, Italy, Jamaica, South Africa, Costa Rica, Guatemala, Nicaragua and Switzerland.

The Beginning of HealingStrong

2023: Celebrating 10 Years

Where it began

In 2013, a group of cancer thrivers and their friends came together in the living room of Jeff and Suzy Griswold to prayerfully ask God how HealingStrong could serve the community. Desiring to teach truths about healing in a way that leads to wholeness, the group took a leap of faith and offered a holistic health conference, scholarshipping cancer patients. The conference made such an impact, that a group of attendees, led by Christine Holcomb, wanted ongoing support. Joining forces with Dr. Veronique Desaulniers as their speaker and mentor, this local group helped lead the way for HUNDREDS of other local groups to form around the world. These groups educate people on the anti-cancer diet, detoxification, forgiveness and healing trauma. HealingStrong Groups meet daily in-person and online.

HealingStrong Essentials

MISSION STATEMENT:
Our mission is to connect, support and educate individuals who are facing cancer and other diseases. We focus on proven holistic strategies that help to rebuild the body, renew the soul and refresh the spirit through the Word of God.

PURPOSE:
To help others heal by creating a network of community groups online and in-person that help to address the needs of the body, soul and spirit in order to find true healing and wholeness.

THREE PILLARS:
HealingStrong focuses on three pillars to accomplish its mission and purpose by supporting a growing network of online and in-person community groups with a curriculum that offers a holistic approach to wellness in these areas:

Rebuilding the Body by:
- Implementing the anti-cancer diet
- Practicing the detoxification methods of fasting and juicing
- Identifying and addressing nutrient deficiencies
- Gaining strength through safe exercise

Renewing the Soul by:
- Reframing negative thought patterns
- Forgiveness of self and others
- Practicing de-stressing techniques
- Incorporating gratitude into daily routines

Refreshing the Spirit by:
- Connecting with God through community prayer and Bible study
- Learning to hear, discern and obey the voice of God
- Trusting God's promises found in His Word

Why Partner?

You Will Be Saving Lives!

HealingStrong Groups offer a unique and valuable experience for individuals seeking hope, information, and support on their healing journey. Members learn about topics such as juicing and the significance of forgiveness while gaining much more. They join a close-knit community of individuals on a similar healing path, becoming more informed patients involved in their overall health and well-being.

Through our community groups, we create deep connections with participants and equip them with the necessary tools for physical, emotional, and spiritual healing. By fostering a supportive environment, we provide a space for individuals to share their experiences, learn from one another, and find comfort and reassurance.

The Need

Cancer affects 1 in 2 men and nearly 1 in 2 women. In recent years, social isolation, stress, fear, and anxiety have increased, especially impacting those facing life-threatening diseases. An 85-year longevity study at Harvard University found that positive social support is the No. 1 factor contributing to happiness and longevity (Psychology and Relationships, February 2023).

HealingStrong groups are worldwide

The Opportunity

By partnering with us, you will support the development of groups through initiatives such as group leader training, participant curriculum, marketing platforms, our live webinars, Healing Journey JumpStart online summits, the I Am HealingStrong Podcast, our interactive website, webinars and more. Your partnership will immediately impact individuals healing from life-threatening diseases by offering hope and tangible help. The knowledge and results provided will also benefit their families and can prevent future diseases when adopted as a lifestyle. The benefits are generational and immeasurable.

Each month, an average of 1,900 participants attend the local and online groups and learn practical tools to support healing, through extensively-researched educational lessons, a community of like-minded people, with loving encouragement and support. When you partner with HealingStrong, you or your company can engage in this mission and help lead people into healing and wholeness. This year HealingStrong Partners are granted multiple opportunities to share your company's passion and support with our community:
